Dear Students,

Nursing is a profession that open doors for those who are ready to join hands to serve the suffering mankind with advancement of educational development and growing health consciousness among people, a nurse has to be professionally skilled, intellectually enlightened and morally committed towards the profession. Guided by the noble ideals of Late Sh. B.N. Makkar Ji, the Management of SPN College of Nursing which is now about 6 years old and has grown tremendously in terms of infrastructure, faculty & witnessed significant academic achievements by its students.

I invite you to join and experience the teaching & training environment at our campus.
